

Hi All

Well now that the well publicized storm event has wound down, such as it was, we seemed to have lucked out and most got a good night sleep. Carnation lost power only for a few hours from about 2:00am - 5:00am but other than that it was pretty calm. The forecast looks bearable for the next 48-72 hours so hope they are right about that.

On behalf of the communities of Carnation and Duvall I want to thank all of you for spending time with me yesterday as we prepared our plans for the worse case scenario. I also want to express our gratitude for just being here when we need you. It's sure comforting to know that when the chips are down we have some awesome volunteers more than ready and able to respond.

I would like to offer the opportunity for all to get together again maybe just after the holidays and work on some of those things we talked about yesterday I would like to spend a little more time exercising through the use of some of our equipment and hey its fun just hanging out with you all anyway!.

In the meantime have a safe and happy holiday season.
See you all soon..
